TAKING CUSTOMERS FURTHER IN HEALTH CARE FINANCE

Further (Formerly SelectAccount): New Identity, Same Culture of Going Above and Beyond

Announced on April 2, 2018, SelectAccount, a leader in health care spending account administration with more than $1.2 billion in assets under management, changed its name to Further.

What is Further?

Further helps its partners and customers wade through the complexities of health care and finance, so they can make health spending choices that fit their everyday life and financial goals. The 260-strong team at the Eagan, Minnesota-based company helps make the process of paying for health care simple, seamless and clear so Further customers can spend every day wisely.

Why is Further changing its name?

Our new Further name and brand enables Further to better reflect what makes us great as an organization, one that is built on a culture of going above and beyond, of going further.

Why Further?

It's the belief of the team at Further that everyone's health care journey is unique, and the landscape is always changing. And that journey is too complicated for most people to traverse on their own. Therefore, when an individual feels they're on solid ground financially, they can make more informed health choices. Health care finance companies should be part of the solution. That's Further.

A person's health and happiness should come ahead of dollars and cents, so the team at Further is evolving every point of interaction between money and health to make them work better for its members. If Further can help consumers seamlessly connect health and finance so they can spend every day wisely, we all win. In the end, the goal of Further is for customers to know that the company has taken them further.

What can customers expect to experience as a result of the name change?

Customers can expect the same great experience and customer service Further has long cultivated. The change in name does not change the core of the company. In fact, it gives clarity to what Further already does well.
